THE GREATEST SUCCESS EVER IN SYDNEY. A SUCCESS IN EUROPE AND AMERICA.
THE FASHIONABLE HIT OF THE DAY
The Fashionable Hit of the Day
The Fashionable Hit of the Day.
Every part nightly filled with the élite of Sydney.
"MINNIE PALMER
can be likened to no one but herself." "The oftener you see her the more you like her." "She grows on those least disposed to like her at first, because she is original."
ADVICE: BOOK YOUR SEATS.
ENGAGEMENT LIMITED.
ADVICE: BOOK YOUR SEATS.
Not to see MINNIE PALMER is to argue oneself "Not a theatre goer."
MINNIE PALMER
is an individuality rare and pure. To coarse or stilted minds M. P. has no meaning.
"What would the fragrance of a violet be amid the odours of a crowded bar-room? But to those who like sweetness and light, and to whom the laughter of children is ever delicious music, M. P. will always appeal irresistibly."
THE SYDNEY HERALD, December 28.
"'My Sweetheart' abounds with innocent mirth, and was received with unlimited enthusiasm. The costumes are elegant."
THE SYDNEY HERALD, December 29.
"Minnie Palmer, artistically considered, possesses the quaint tender pathos of the French comedienne, allied with a tender freshness and a delicate sense of fun entirely her own."
THE DAILY TELEGRAPH, December 28.
"Much was expected of Minnie Palmer, and we have not been disappointed."
THE GLOBE, December 28.
"A regular Boxing night audience filled and overflowed from the Opera House on Monday night, the occasion of Minnie Palmer's first appearance in Sydney. Miss Palmer will take the Sydney people by storm."
THE ECHO, December 28.
"Minnie Palmer's singing is charming, her dancing a miracle of grace and ease, and it would seem as if Minnie Palmer and 'My Sweetheart' had made the same success in Sydney as elsewhere."
THE SYDNEY MAIL, January 1.
"The first appearance of Miss Minnie Palmer drew the largest gathering which the theatre has witnessed since its erection. Physically, Miss Minnie Palmer is one of Nature's fairy women—a child in height, of dainty proportions, endowed with much beauty, a pleasing voice well cultivated, and feet that step to tuneful, rythmic measure with a grace that Terpsichore herself might envy. Anything more charming and at the same time more refined and more entirely free from the suggestiveness which makes some dancers' efforts objectionable cannot be imagined; and if only for the Shadow dance in the third act, the entertainment is well worth a visit. Besides this, the little lady is a graceful actress—pathetic, winsome, and saucy by turns; full of fun and full of feeling, and eliciting the sympathies of all who see her. 'My Sweetheart' is a pleasant blending of familiar types from many sources, and the whole forms a very pleasant entertainment, to which a man may take wife, sister, or daughter to witness, with the assurance that there is nothing to make himself or his companion blush to hear or see. Miss Minnie Palmer plays the romp and the spoiled child, but she remembers that these can be pourtrayed without vulgarity, and she never offends, while in matters of the toilet she is wonderful. The elegance and costliness of her costume for the second act make it as unique as the performance of the heroine. The piece is well mounted, and has hit the public taste."
TOWN AND COUNTRY JOURNAL, January 1.
"Miss Palmer is, indeed, a most vivacious and winning little lady. With her slight girlish figure and arch and animated face, 'My Sweetheart' is at all points decidedly 'pretty as a picture.' When it is added that she possesses the further advantage of a merry ringing voice, and that she can use it with good effect in singing as well as speaking; that she dances with spirit, and that, in a word, she seems to be briskness and good-humour personified, it will be understood how easily she can secure the favourable verdict of an audience."
THE SYDNEY REFEREE, December 30.
"Minnie Palmer is quite as good as she was described to be, and better. She has a charming figure, petite but beautifully rounded, the neatest little foot and ankle a sane man could desire to see, a face which has the faculty of looking a dozen different faces in a minute, and all of them charming, a sweet, flexible, sympathetic voice, full of expressive inflexions and half tones, an airy fairy spontaneous method of dancing, and a captivating manner of dealing with anything and everything that makes you careless as to what she does. All you want her to do is to come on the stage and stay there."
SYDNEY SPORTSMAN, December 30.
"Minnie Palmer 'debutted' on Boxing Night at the Opera House before an immense audience. In a very short space of time she has rolled through England, Wales, Ireland, Scotland, and America; and, young as she is, has gathered a stock of diamonds and pretty epitaphs large enough to retire and be happy on for the rest of her life, even if she doesn't die till she's a hundred. The foreign press has described her as 'pretty,' 'undeniably clever,' 'an enormous financial success,' 'beloved by matherdom,' 'young,' 'bright,' 'petite,' 'arch,' 'agile,' 'playful,' 'crisp as a crackerel,' 'full of grace,' 'fascinating,' 'little ray of sunshine,' 'full of animation,' 'a dose of concentrated mirth,' 'unique,' 'buoyant,' 'interesting,' 'piquante,' 'pleasing,' 'captivating,' 'joyous,' 'gay,' 'original,' 'natural,' 'funny,' 'delightfully spontaneous,' 'full of humour,' 'saucy,' 'vivacious,' 'grotesque,' 'bewitching,' 'sprightly,' 'full of spirit,' 'kitten like,' 'quaint unto eccentricity,' and dainty.' It may be safely said that Miss Palmer is all this. She sings, dances, laughs, mimics, and romps about in such a winsome, spontaneous way that you become infected with her high spirits, and enjoy yourself a lot. Her dresses are magnificent, and her diamonds, larger and more valuable than those of any other actress in the world, are dazzingly superb. Miss Palmer is like no other artiste we have had out here, and it is pretty certain that she will sing and dance herself into the affections of Sydney playgoers in a very short space of time."
THE TRIBUNE, December 31.
"Miss Minnie Palmer is quite as dainty, pretty, and refined-looking off the stage as on it. Large blue eyes give an air of wondering innocence to a countenance of refined beauty, a slightly aquiline nose, a well-shaped mouth, pearly teeth, and a pink and white complexion, and those of my readers who wish to gain a clear idea of her bewitching grace, mobile expression, and changeful humours must see her for themselves at the Opera House."
ADVICE: BOOK YOUR SEATS.
THE SUNDAY TIMES, January 2.
"We have a genius among us for the time."
MINNIE PALMER AT THE OPERA HOUSE.
THE BULLETIN, January 1.
"Very funny—possibly—perhaps—if you see it—(Merrily J. R. B.)"
THE EVENING NEWS, December 28.
"Untrue, and the writer, 'if a man,' must now feel ashamed of himself.—(Merrily J. R. B.)
BAILEY'S SUNDAY NEWS, January 2.
"We advise all who love delicate and refined acting to spend an evening with the dainty Tina."
Third notice SYDNEY MORNING HERALD, January 1.
"A play full of bustle and fun, without containing anything to bring a blush to the most prudish. 'My Sweetheart' is exactly suited to all those who love innocent mirth."

NEW YEAR'S DAY.

If the brightness of the weather on the 1st January be any indication of good fortune, then should the new year be pleasant and prosperous, for brighter or more enjoyable weather than that which was experienced on Saturday never before graced New Year's Day. Opportunities for spending the holiday agreeably were numerous, and the usual crowds patronised the various sports, excursions, and picnics provided for the entertainment of the public. The very large number of people who left their homes and went abroad to enjoy the holiday was not at all in keeping with the depression under which the colony has for some time past been labouring. Judging from the crowds who spent Saturday in the open air, substantial prosperity, and not depression, is the feature of the time with the masses in New South Wales. There was no lack of amusement. Tattersall's Club had arranged a very enticing programme of races at Randwick, and nothing was left undone to secure the success of the meeting. On the Cricket Association's Ground the Highland Society held their usual sports, which included a bicycle race, contested not only by local riders, but by the English cyclists who are also champions of Australia. Excursions were made to Broken Bay and the Hawkesbury River, and to Botany and the George's River; and there were the usual holiday facilities for visiting the various picnicing spots down the harbour. Crowds of people patronised the steamers, and crowds equally as large left the city by the trams and trains. Excursion fares induced very many to spend the day at places accessible by train, and the brightness of the weather made some of the places of public resort on the Illawarra railway very attractive. The Zoological Gardens, the Domain, and the Botanical Gardens were each well attended, and private picnicing parties were observable at every inviting point and in every cosy nook about the harbour and along the banks of the Parramatta River. In every direction there was enjoyment, and at night the people filled the theatres. No day in the year is more significant than New Year's Day, and on no day do the public engage in outdoor pleasures with greater zest, and no New Year's Day could pass more satisfactorily than did Saturday.

HIGHLAND GATHERING.

The nineteenth annual gathering, in connection with the Highland Society, took place on Saturday on the Association Ground, Moore Park. The event is always a popular one, the programme being invariably attractive, and in the present instance there was a very large attendance of the public. Unfortunately for many hundreds of people who desired to see the sports the train arrangements were very unsatisfactory. The trains to the ground were altogether insufficient in number, being in proportion of one to about six that went to the racecourse. Hundreds of people stationed themselves at street corners in the hope of getting a seat, and flocks of them ran after the trams for that purpose, but after a chase of a hundred yards they gave the trams "best," and had to retire disappointed. The ground at the park was in splendid condition, and the many thousands who were present had a splendid day's amusement, the programme prepared by the committee being the best they have issued. The sward was as level as a billiard table, and the terraces are so arranged that every person obtains an excellent view of whatever is taking place. The lawn also was in good order, and the grand stand was not only crowded in every part, but was gay with row upon row of bright summer costumes. The Band of the Naval Artillery was stationed in front of it, and played a fine selection of music there, and also provided music for the dancers. The grounds generally were decorated with flags, and the committee, with Captain Chisholm at their head, provided in every possible way for the convenience of the visitors, besides seeing that the various contests were carried on in a fair and satisfactory manner. As there were 60 events on the programme, these gentlemen had an extremely lively time, and cannot be said to have rested the whole day. Mr. W. T. Jacoub, the record keeper, whose duties were of a most responsible and laborious character, was also busily engaged, and never had a chance for a moment's repose. There has never, in fact, been an occasion on which the committee had to exert themselves to the same degree, and, happily, they were so successful that everyone was satisfied with what they did. The competitors were numerous in every department, and there were so many eager to win the New Year's Cup that they had to run in no less than eleven divisions. And with regard to divisions, the committee introduced a feature that is likely to give much satisfaction. They gave to each winner of a division a prize, and this no doubt imparted to the runners greater spirit, as it increased their chances of winning something. In addition to the programme being large, it comprised some additions that very much increased the interest in the gathering. The bayonet exercises were well appreciated, and lent an agreeable variety to the proceedings. It is worthy of remark, however, that only men of the reserves took part in them, and that some of them came from far-distant Young with the hope of winning a prize, and were lucky in being successful. The movements of the men, which were fairly automatic, were loudly applauded. It is questionable, however, whether their head party would save them from the downward stroke of a sabre. They brought their rifles only to the level of their foreheads, thus leaving a large portion of their skulls exposed to danger. Another excellent feature in the programme was the five-mile bicycle contest. This brought into the field three of the best men that could be got together, namely, F. Woods, champion of England; J. Rolfe, champion of Australia; and R. James, of Birmingham, who also styled himself a champion. The racing of these men caused a great deal of excitement, and was a sight well worth witnessing. Five men entered for the prizes, including M. Grath and Palmer, but the contest lay only with the three champions. James got away first, but during the first lap M'Grath led for some distance. In the second lap James put on a spurt and took the lead, with the only competitors he had to fear close behind him, the two others at this point being out of the race altogether. The first mile was done in 3 minutes 23 seconds, with James leading, Rolfe being second, and Woods third; and in this order the men kept on their way, dashing along at a good pace, their bicycles whirring merrily all the while. The second mile occupied 7 minutes 14 2-5th seconds, and James again led, while Woods was still last, but keeping a good lookout ahead and riding in very finished style. As the men dashed past the post, doing the third mile in 11 minutes 6 seconds, they preserved the same order of procession with their bicycles, scarcely more than a yard apart, and they did not appear desirous of altering their positions. The fourth mile was done in 14 minutes 41 seconds, and for three-quarters of a mile the men kept well together, but 100 yards further on Woods dashed to the front, and putting on great speed won easily amidst a tremendous round of cheering. The five miles occupied 17 minutes 55½ seconds; but only during the last quarter of a mile was there any racing, and the time taken for that distance was 33 3-5ths seconds. The jumping during the day was also excellent, one of the winners in a running jump clearing 6 feet. Another interesting spectacle was the wrestling. The best men in this were C. M'Hardy and T. Snow, though several others showed great pluck and endurance. The strains exerted by M'Hardy and Snow were intense, both men being of powerful build. Snow, after a hard struggle, went down first, but afterwards threw his opponent very cleverly with a trip. In the third struggle, however, the immense strength of M'Hardy was too much for him, and he went to grass rather heavily. There was a decided earnestness displayed by both men, and their respective falls must have been anything but sport; but they showed much humour all the while, and gave a fine exhibition of physical strength. A very large number of competitors were arrayed in Highland dress, and some of the costumes were extremely handsome, that of M'Kenzie, who took first prize for the best-dressed Highlander, being about the most complete and best mounted exhibited here. There were scores of girls garbed in the picturesque costume of the Highlands, as well as a large number of youths, and so far as the exhibition of Scottish dress was concerned, the gathering was unusually successful. His Excellency the Governor visited the grounds during the morning, and was received by the committee. His health was proposed by Sir John Hay, and having been heartily drunk it was responded to by his Excellency, who also proposed "Success to the Association." At lunch, after the usual loyal toasts had been honoured, Sir John Hay, the President of the Association, acting on behalf of the committee, presented to Mr. A. T. Telfer a gold chain and pendant, in recognition of that gentleman's long services as a judge and a good worker generally in promoting the charitable and other objects of the association. The present was a very handsome one, and was acknowledged by Mr. Telfer, who, while thanking the committee for their great kindness, expressed his surprise at its being offered to him so suddenly. The following is a list of the events contested during the day and also of the respective winners:—

THE ILLAWARRA LINE.

The numerous favourite resorts along the Illawarra line attracted a large number of people. A number of special trains were run during the day, and although the trains which left the terminus about noon were as usual somewhat crowded, still upon the whole the arrangements in connection with the passenger traffic were of a satisfactory character, and very little room was left for fault finding or grumbling. A large number of persons journeyed to Sutherland, the National Park, and Waterfall, where they spent the day in rambling over the picturesque country; but the chief attraction beyond George's River was, of course, Como, and the demand for tickets to this favourite resort was as usual, great. This is perhaps one of the most picturesque spots there is to be found in the colony, and it is not surprising therefore that with cheap fares and such easy means of transit hundreds of people go to Como on every holiday in the year. If the attendance on New Year's Day may be taken as a forecast of the amount of patronage this delightful watering place is to receive during the year, it would certainly be safe to predict that Como will be among the best visited places of 1887. The same might also be recorded in reference to Cook Park, for judging from the large number of holiday folk who found their way thither on Saturday it would be safe to assert that a day upon the sands will be in its full tide of popularity for some time to come. Mr. Saywell, whose enterprise has done so much to advance the picnicing ground, must feel highly gratified with the liberal manner in which his efforts are appreciated on every public holiday, as his tramcars are always heavily loaded and his baths are well patronised. The erection of a pier at Cook Park has also afforded means for another mode of transit, and one which, no doubt, will be eagerly taken advantage of, as evidenced by the fact that on Saturday a large number of visitors crossed the bay in a steamer from Botany, thus adding the pleasures of a short sea trip to the day's outing. This new arrangement will undoubtedly prove an additional attraction, and will be the means of causing a greater influx of visitors to Cook Park. Those who patronise these excursions will be able to enjoy themselves well, and very little money will be required in order to obtain a thorough day's enjoyment. Leaving Sydney at a convenient hour in the morning, excursionists can proceed to Botany by tram, and after spending an hour or so at the Sir Joseph Banks pleasure grounds they can then take the steamer and cross over to that beautiful stretch of beach which affords such an excellent promenade, and from which the whole of the picturesque surroundings of Botany Bay can be taken in at a glance. From Cook Park the tram can be taken for Rockdale, from which place the train may be taken for either Como or Sydney, as inclination may dictate. Many excursionists took their hampers with them on Saturday, but those who omitted to do so found plenty of opportunities for obtaining what refreshment they required. The beach at Cook Park was dotted here and there with small tents; and it is scarcely necessary to add that the pleasure-seekers surrendered themselves entirely to the enjoyment of the day.

RAILWAY AND TRAM TRAFFIC.

The traffic on the railways was very heavy, the trains running on the suburban and Illawarra lines being crowded with passengers. Special trains ran at short intervals from the metropolis to Parramatta, Ryde, Hornsby, Hurstville, Como, and Sutherland, and excursion trains were despatched to different places on the Southern and Western lines. The tram traffic was exceedingly heavy, and, as is usually the case on all holiday occasions, many of the cars were invaded by about twice as many persons as they were intended to carry. Special trams were despatched to the racecourse at Randwick and to the Highland Gathering at the Association Cricket Ground, and these were very extensively patronised. Large numbers of persons journeyed out to Bondi, Waverley, Coogee, and Botany Bay by tram, and the suburban traffic generally was sufficiently large to tax the resources of the Department. It is satisfactory to be able to state that no fatal mishap occurred on the railways or tram lines on New Year's Day.

THE DOMAIN AND BOTANIC GARDENS.

The Domain and Botanical Gardens were the scenes of numberless family picnic parties. The rich coating of grass upon the former, and the pleasant shades of the many umbrageous trees scattered over it, furnishing the primary requisites of enjoyment to picnickers. Upon the green a number of cricketing teams pitched their wickets, and furnished pleasure not only to those who took part in the matches, but to the crowds of spectators who witnessed the play. The gardens, rich in their summer beauty, looking delightfully fresh and bright after the recent rains, were a source of great attraction to many holiday-makers, and were thronged throughout the day. The well-kept lawns near the seawall furnished a pleasant promenade, where the cool breeze from the water was enjoyed. The Art Gallery was open throughout the day, and was visited by many persons, the greater number being country holiday folk, who were making a round of the city sights. The principal pictures, such as "Widowed," "Diogenes," "Wedded," and others were special points of attraction, and such had their little groups of spectators, whose sympathetic remarks betrayed the interest aroused by them.

THE ZOOLOGICAL GARDENS.

Another great attraction to holiday-makers, and especially to those whose members were chiefly little folk, were the wonders of the Zoo. It is but a few years since the site now occupied by the Zoo was a "rubbish shoot" into which all sorts of nondescript articles were emptied. Out of this sink of garbage has arisen the charming lawns, lake, and fountain of the present pleasure gardens, but still the observant visitor may notice the base upon which so much that is beautiful has been raised. "If you scratch the Russian," runs the proverb, "you will find the Tartar," and if one scratches the surface of the grassy lawns in the Zoo he will probably unearth the rusty sardine tin or broken fragment of bottle, the relics of the old rubbish-heap. To-day, however, the lordly lion and the majestic elephant are to be seen above the spot where once the vagrant cat and dog roamed at their own sweet will. The collection at the Zoo continues to increase in interest, the directors constantly adding to the number of its wonders till soon it may be fairly expected there will be a cry for "more room," and certainly if popularity constitute in any degree a claim to such concession, the claim will be a strong one.

HARBOUR EXCURSIONS.

The Circular Quay on Saturday wore a gay holiday appearance. Many of the ships in port were dressed with flags from stem to stern, and the display of bunting was unusually large. The harbour was alive with small craft of every description, and nearly every steamer available seemed to have been pressed into the service of the pleasure seekers and excursionists. The numerous bands of music—some good, many indifferent, and a few striving with scant success to elicit harmony from battered and antique-looking instruments, but all playing different tunes in various keys—united in a veritable Dutch concert that would have driven Wagner mad with vexation and despair. With these strange discords there were combined the yellings of touts selling tickets for the picnics, the cries of newsboys, and the shouts of itinerant vendors of the succulent peach, the indigestible woolly pear, and the substantial banana. The sun shone with great power, but the heat was tempered by a mild, refreshing breeze. The behaviour of the surging crowd on the Quay was for the most part good-humoured and orderly, and the policemen on duty appeared to be there more for show than for active service. Conspicuously placed near the floating jetty was the splendid banner of the Shamrock Club, on one side of which a daring artist has depicted Erin, with her wolf-hound, under a sky of brilliant emerald green, a pictorial audacity of which nature has certainly furnished no example. The banner is said to be the finest in Australia, and it certainly does look worth the £85 which was paid for it, so far as painting and gilding are concerned. The club held its picnic at Athol Gardens, and, judging from the crowded steamers which at intervals conveyed its adherents to their destination, the trade done in tickets was very large. The Balmain Coldstream Band was engaged by the Club. They played away as if their very lives depended upon it, and they played well, too. It was estimated that nearly 4000 persons patronised this picnic. The Sydney Marine Benefit Society had its picnic at Clontarf, and a very brisk business was done in the tickets. This excursion seemed very popular, especially among seafaring men and their friends. There is something very thorough in the jollity of sailors and people of that kind when they do lay themselves out for a day's pleasuring, and the heartiness with which they enter into their enjoyment is a sight most refreshing to witness. The Imperial Band was hired to discourse sweet music to them, and, judging from the well-known devotion of "sailor-men" to the practice of the Terpsichorean art, the band must have been pretty nearly played out at the end of the day, that is, if they played with as much vigour and persistency as the nautical people threw into their dancing. The Rechabites held their picnic at Pearl Bay, one of the lovelier spots in the lovely harbour of Sydney, and it was stated to be the largest and most successful outing that the society has ever had. There were three steamers engaged, plying constantly to and fro, and crammed to the utmost at every trip to the scene of festivities. The Oriental Band contributed the musical portion of the day's programme, and they earned their money by continuous and downright hard work. The Temperance Society had its rendezvous at Cremorne, and there was no lack of patronage. The Young Australian Band enlivened this picnic, and played remarkably well. Manly Bay and Aquarium commanded a large attendance, the latter receiving an enormous number of visitors, the attractions of a regatta adding not a little to the enjoyment of the visitors. The beautiful beach is a source of never-failing injoyment, and the situation, in regard to scenery and views of the most charming description, is unrivalled amid all the competing attractions of pleasure-seekers which abound in the harbour and its vicinity. Chowder Bay was the scene of much liveliness and social enjoyment, the votaries of the dance mustering in great force in the cool and commodious pavilion, and keeping the musicians pretty hard at work all day. Mosman's Bay also was not neglected by those who enjoy a pleasant day's abandonment to sports and games of various kinds. There were many quiet picnic parties who went to secluded spots on the North Shore, where they could revel in the refreshing sea-breezes and luxuriate in the leafy bowers of umbrageous trees, while they watched the gay scene in the harbour below, and observed the constant succession of steamers with their human freight packed as closely, in many instances, as the proverbial herrings in a barrel. Small craft, yachts, and pleasure-boats of all kinds dotted the water in every direction, and much enhanced the beauty of the display as viewed from the shores of the harbour. It is not too high an estimate to put the total number of excursionists down at 20,000 people.

SYDNEY MARINE BENEFIT SOCIETY'S PICNIC.

The fourteenth anniversary of the Sydney Marine Benefit Society was celebrated by a picnic at Clontarf. The members of the society, in regalia, marched at 8.30 a.m., headed by a band, to the Circular Quay, where several special steamers were laid on. These during the day took about a thousand visitors down the harbour, and a programme of sports, games, &c., was discussed. The Imperial Brass Band provided unlimited dance music in the pavilion, and a string band was also provided for hornpipe, dancing, &c. Despite rather extreme heat, enjoyment was fully entered into, and a day's amusement was enjoyed by very many.

HAWKESBURY RIVER.

The steamer Sydney, of the Newcastle Steamship Company, under command of Captain Skinner, left the Lime-street Wharf on New Year's Day, with between 500 and 600 passengers on board, for a trip to the Hawkesbury River. The visitors were conveyed up the river as far as the railway bridge which is in course of erection, at which place they were allowed to land, and a pleasant two or three hours' run on shore was much enjoyed. Here and there could be seen small clusters of picnickers seated round a snow-white cloth, upon which the seasonable contents of the family basket were spread, all eager to appease a hungry appetite which had been sharpened by the sea breeze, while those who had not been thoughtful enough to arm themselves with a luncheon basket could obtain a very good luncheon on board, many availing themselves of the opportunity. After a hurried glance at the works the party embarked, and Sydney was reached about half-past 6 o'clock, all having apparently thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

PARRAMATTA RIVER.

The Parramatta River, owing to its picturesque scenery, the splendid picnicing spots along its banks, and the regular and commodious steamboat accommodation, was visited on Saturday by large numbers of holiday-makers. Steamers plied from the foot of King-street every half-hour during the day, and the number of passengers was about 1500. The real crush took place between 11 o'clock and 2 o'clock, when it was difficult to find even standing room on the boats. Private parties were set down at many of the least known stopping places, while those who preferred enjoying themselves with the crowd congregated at Cabarita, Temnyson, and Fern Bay. At the first mentioned resort Mr. T. Correy catered excellently for the enjoyment of his numerous patrons, and his efforts met with general approval. Hot and cold luncheons were provided as usual at reasonable rates, and a variety of amusements was indulged in. The principal of these was, of course, dancing in the spacious pavilion, where the practice of the graceful art, under the direction of efficient Ma.C., and to the strains of the Young Australian Band, proved extremely enjoyable. The historical town from which the river takes its name, and the noble park in its vicinity, were also visited by a great many sightseers. The bulk of the pleasure-seekers returned homewards at nightfall, when the steamers were densely crowded, but made the trips without any mishaps.

BOTANY AND GEORGE'S RIVER.

A large number of holiday-makers left Sydney for Botany Bay, and the chief places of interest on the margin of the historic sheet of water were largely patronised by well-dressed and orderly picnic parties. The majority of those who elected to pass the first day in the new year at the abovenamed locality journeyed from the city by the trams, several of which were thronged after leaving King-street, and the discomfort consequent upon the overcrowding was great. A pleasing feature in connection with the ride out to Botany was the fact that the roads, as far as the Waterloo terminus, had been watered by the Department, thereby allaying the clouds of dust that usually arise whilst proceeding along the tram line. The remaining portion of the road, from Waterloo to Botany, had not been watered, and the passengers soon perceived the difference, as the dust was most annoying. The chief place of attraction was the splendid pleasure-gardens belonging to Mr. Frank Smith, better known as the Sir Joseph Banks Pavilion and Pleasure Grounds, at which place the enterprising and courteous proprietor had prepared an excellent programme of amusements for the delectation of his patrons. There were sports of various kinds for the children, and the Tom Thumb Steam Engine conveyed large numbers of merry-faced fun-loving juveniles to and fro on the miniature railway which has been laid down in one of the most charming parts of the gardens. Dancing in the splendid pavilion, to music supplied by the Alhambra String Band, was heartily indulged in during the greater portion of the day by most of those present. In addition to the foregoing, an entertainment was given by the Alhambra Minstrels. Good order prevailed, and everyone seemed to thoroughly enjoy the day's outing. The gardens are in splendid condition just now, and the view of the noble bay with the magnificent beaches and wooded hills in the rear, forms a most agreeable change to the toilers in the heated metropolis. Several picnic parties journeyed out to La Perouse, and groups of holiday folk were scattered all along the beach at Botany. The steamer Trident, owned by Mr. Dent, under the command of Captain Arthur ran several trips from the pier to the baths at Lady Robinson's Beach, and in the afternoon she followed a sailing race that took place on the bay between some of the local craft. A large number of pleasure-seekers spent a pleasant day at the seaside grounds attached to the Prince of Wales Hotel, Sandringham, where a brass band performed on the lawn, and boating and fishing were indulged in. The steamer Kembla, commanded by Captain Summerbell, conveyed a number of passengers from Sydney to Sandringham, arriving at that place at about 2 p.m. Tom Ugly's Point, Sans Souci, and other places of interest on George's River, were extensively resorted to by those desirous of spending their holiday amid some of the most lovely surroundings to be found in the whole of Australia.

GAIETY THEATRE.

On Saturday evening Dion Boucicault's Irish drama "Arrah-na-Pogue" was revived for one night only, and with this production the Sheridan season in Sydney has finished for the present. Mr. Sheridan as Shaun the Post secured the fullest sympathy of the audience, and Miss Louise Davenport made a pleasing and pathetic Arrah Meelish. The theatre was well filled, and, the company generally being painstaking and earnest, the Irish drama was received with great applause. This evening a new season will be commenced at the Gaiety under the management of Messrs. Taylor and Smith, and strong melodrama at cheap prices will be the staple dramatic fare. The opening attraction is to be Dion Boucicault's most successful Irish idyll "The Shaugraun," which has not been played in Sydney since the veteran actor-author appeared in it at the Royal more than 18 months ago. Miss Louise Davenport has been especially engaged for the leading female character, Claire Ffolliot. Mr. C. H. Taylor will appear as Conn, Miss Ella Carrington as Moya, and these last-named artists will introduce a number of their musical specialties into the drama. New scenery has been especially painted for this revival by Mr. Setright, and the "Shaugraun" should draw good houses for a limited run.

THE CRITERION THEATRE.

Every seat and box in all parts of this theatre was occupied on Saturday evening, when "Falka" was repeated. The audience was lavish of approval, and throughout the evening testified its satisfaction with the work and the performers. Several pieces were encored, and Signor Verdi and Miss Emilie Melville might have increased the number of repetitions had they accepted the demands for "Le Postillon" and "Ora pro Me." The spectacular parts, particularly the finale to each act, are greatly admired, and they are certainly brilliant and effective as picturesque combinations of colour and costume. Mr. Edwin Kelly has make still broader his broak version of Brother Pelican. On the first night the business of this part was too pronounced to be pleasant to all sections of the house. It has, however, become coarser, and is to ladies, who form a large portion of the audience, offensive; there is no comic humour; nor is there any wit in rolling about the stage; Mr. Kelly's experience in his profession ought to give him better judgment. Miss Emilie Melville, Signor Verdi, and Miss Fanny Liddiard are most earnest in their endeavours; the trio in the last act was well sung on Saturday. Mr. John Forde is fussy and successful as the Governor. Mr. George Dean has not improved his Tancred: any spectator would marvel at the passion of Edwige for this boyish lover, and sympathise with Alexina in preferring the gipsy. The dance of the peasants or gipsies—the costume is too peculiar for the order to be defined—makes an agreeable change in the third act. The good qualities and effects of the scenery fully maintain their charm, and though "Falka" is far removed from a great opera, there is much that is pleasant in it. The orchestra has improved, and the whole goes with spirit.

MILITARY CONCERT.

The Exhibition Building wore a very attractive appearance on Saturday evening, when the Fifth Scottish Regiment gave a grand promenade concert, under the patronage of his Excellency the Governor; Major-General Richardson, Commandant of the New South Wales Military Forces; and of Lieutenant-Colonel Eden, commanding 2nd Infantry Brigade. The front portion of the reserved seats was set apart for the patrons and for the officers, of whom a large number were present, the majority accompanied by ladies, the scarlet and blue uniforms showing to particular advantage amid the many white gowns worn by the ladies. The platform and orchestra were decorated and the conductor's desk was wreathed with tartan and ribbon. The entrance to the platform from the back was arranged to represent the entrance to a tent, with tartan ribbon edging the white bordering to the crimson hangings; stars of bayonets ornamented the pillars, and stands of arms were piled in different parts of the platform. Facing the audience, in coloured letters upon a white ground, were the words "A Guid New Year t'ane and a'." It was announced that the "Sydney Scottish March," composed by Pipe-Major Macdonald, would be played by the pipe band. For some unexplained cause this was omitted, and the concert began with a selection of Scottish airs played by the Second Regiment Band, conducted by Mr. Bandmaster M'Mahon. The tunes in the selection have all been set to songs by the poet Burns. They were on the whole well played. A little unsteadiness was noticeable on two occasions, but the balance was quickly restored. The band is improving rapidly. The opening selection of the second part, "La Ruche Dore," was contributed by the same combination, and with good effect. The bandmaster, in addition, gave a difficult cornet solo "Alexis." This was composed by Levy on purpose to display his own brilliant powers. Mr. M'Mahon's interpretation was highly satisfactory, as showing his mastery over the instrument. Bugle-sergeant Warren, to whom precedence as a bugler is unanimously accorded in Sydney, played with exquisite purity of tone the Bugle Marches, including the signals for the various companies and movements. They are cleverly connected, and form an interesting piece of music. The applause was very great, and a portion was repeated. Herr Pechotsch, in place of De Beriot's "Scène de Ballet," selected Vieuxtemps' "American Fantasia," in reality "Yankee Doodle," with violin-gymnastic ornamentation; a clever and eccentric piece, which pleased the audience greatly, though as a performance and for the music itself Herr Pechotsch has been heard to do much better things. Some of his harmonies were decidedly imperfect. For encore a portion was repeated. For the Scotch fantasia the lively tunes had an extra accompaniment in the regularly-measured beat of the feet of many in the audience. It was for its place on the programme too long. Signora Lardelli sang "Auld Robin Gray" quicker than custom and tradition have made usual, and seemed to lack the pathos which gives this old ballad its great charm. The singer was recalled. Her second selection was rather tame. Mrs. Macdonald was in fine voice, and her singing of "Caller Herrin" was enthusiastically received. For encore she gave "Comin' Tharo' the Rye" with much piquancy, and was greatly applauded. "Kathleen Mavourneen" was her second song. Mrs. Pechotsch sang "Robin Adair." The version she chose is not the best known, nor is it quite equal to the old arrangement. Arditi's waltz song is not in this lady's style; the grave, pathetic order of songs seems better fitted to her mode. This waltz song needs abandon and a piquancy which were wanting. Mr. Vernon Read was in capital voice, his first song was "Anchored," Watson; the second "The Bonnie Hills of Scotland," which brought the singer quite an ovation, and after a double recall he sang with much vigour "The Young Brigade," Jude, than which there was no better vocal effort during the evening. Mr. H. Galloway has a pleasing voice, but at present wants spirit in his style. The "Yeoman's Wedding" was very cold and colourless, and Sullivan's "Highland Message" fell tamely. The Highland fling was danced by Mr. D. Mackenzie to that music so dear to Scottish ears and hearts the bagpipes, and vehemently applauded; and as the dancers for the "Gillie Callum" were not present, Miss Pringle gave instead a second version of the Highland Fling. Signor Lardelli accompanied his wife. The remainder of the vocalists and the solo instrumentalists were accompanied with thorough efficiency by Mr. Augustus Gehde. After Miss Pringle's dance, Mrs. Macdonald, Messrs. Reid and Galloway, with several officers, stepped forward, the lady sang "Auld Lang Syne," the refrain being very warmly taken up by those surrounding her and by the whole audience. The national anthem followed, during which the audience hurried away. It was nearly 11 o'clock when the concert terminated. The audience, though large, was less numerous than the concert and the object for which the promoters worked deserved.

THE NEW MASONIC HALL.

A Scottish National Concert, arranged by Mr. Robert Millen, took place on Saturday evening, at the new meeting. The amendment, moved by a Mr. Jacobs and seconded by Mr. France, was, "That the people here assembled are of opinion that the law should take its course, and are further of opinion that the meetings called for the purpose of urging a remission of the death penalty do not represent the voice of this community." Upon being put to the meeting the amendment was carried almost unanimously, only about six hands being held up in support of the resolution.

THE Avenue at Lane Cove was on Saturday last the scene of an enjoyable picnic given by Mr. J. C Brierley, of Hunter-street, to his employees and members of their families. Shortly before 10 a.m. a special steamer having on board nearly 200 persons left the wharf at Lime-street for the spot decided upon for the day's outing. Included in the company were Messrs. J. C. Brierley, J. Brierley, sen., James I. Marshall, C. C. Marshall, H. Hudson, T. R. Davis, Kiss, and H. Lamb. On arriving at the destination sports of all kinds were entered upon, among the items some good jumping and foot-racing. Dancing, and several other classes of amusement, were also indulged in. The necessary music was supplied by a band of competent performers, and throughout the day refreshments were dispensed with liberality. During an interval Mr. Brierley availed himself of the opportunity to thank those present for the hearty manner in which they had at all times supported him. A reply in very complimentary terms having been made, the proceedings resumed their former aspect. At dusk the party returned to the city in the best of spirits, and with much good feeling prevailing.

WE are requested to announce that the depôt for the admission to the hospital of persons desiring to be received therein at the expense of the Government has been removed to the old vaccine office in King-street.

WITH reference to the arrest of John Rodgers Barrett, upon whom were found some 40 spurious bank notes purporting to be those of the Commercial Bank, as recorded in our issue of Saturday, detectives Greaves and Hinds will be glad to hear from any person who has been victimised by means of similar notes. Barrett stands remanded for a week.

THE days for holding the courts at Newtown and Redfern have been changed, the new arrangement taking effect from to-day. Hitherto the Redfern Court has been held on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, and that of Newtown on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday in each week. It has been found, however, that there is, as a rule, more business to be disposed of at Newtown, and that as one of the court days falls on Saturday, the cases are liable to get in arrears and fall heavier on the remaining days. In consequence of this the order has been reversed.

THE members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society in aid of the poor heralded in the new year by a grand concert and quadrille party on Friday night, in the Temperance Hall, Balmain. The chair was taken by Mr. Cruikshank, president of the branch, who was supported by Mr. O'Neill, president of the society. Several songs, duets, &c., were contributed throughout the evening, special features being a triple statue clog dance by Messrs. Lawler, Morrison, and Carr; Mesdames Newman and Engisch's songs, and Mr. A. Fraser Cassin's recital of "Shamus O'Brien"—which latter was frequently applauded. The proceedings proved a financial success.

THE Newcastle Herald, of December 31, regrets to have to repeat that the health of the Bishop of Newcastle is so seriously impaired as to preclude all notion of his being able to leave for any place necessitating a sea voyage for a very long time. After a lapse of a few weeks, should a turn for the better have set in, it is possible that Dr. Pearson may be able to repair to some inland town for change of air and scene. His health on the morning of last Saturday week was good, and the sudden nature of the nervous prostration by which he has been attacked has naturally filled his friends with the greatest apprehension.

ON Friday morning last a clever fraud was perpetrated on the Fitzroy (Melbourne) branch of the National Bank. A man presented a cheque for £308, signed by Messrs. Boyd and Head, well-known brewers, and the cashier handed him the money for it. The cheque was afterwards examined, when it was found that it had been originally drawn for £8 0s. 8d., but both the figures and the body of the cheque had been skilfully altered. The police, of course, are searching for the culprit.

MELBOURNE journals announce the resignation of Mr. E. S. Symonds, Under-Treasurer. The Victorian Public Service Commissioners will nominate a successor, the actual appointment to be made by the Governor-in-Council.

ON New Year's Eve the residence of Mrs. Walsh, living in Parramatta North, was broken into, and a sum of £40, all in notes, stolen therefrom. An inspection of the premises showed that the back door had been forced upon by the thief or thieves, who contented themselves with the money.

THE Sabbath calm which usually pervades that portion of Phillip-street lying between Hunter and King-streets was rudely disturbed about noon on Sunday by an alarm of fire from the Supreme Court Hotel, situated at the corner of King and Phillip streets. The intelligence was at once communicated to the Fire Brigade, and a steam fire-engine and reel were quickly on the spot, but their services were fortunately not required, as the fire proved to be only a trifling affair, and was easily extinguished by a few buckets of water.

ON Saturday a boy named James Inars was kicked in the face by a horse while taking the animal to the Parramatta Park. He was conveyed to the Parramatta Hospital, where he was found to be suffering slightly from concussion of the brain, in addition to cuts and contusions about the face. The same afternoon, a child, aged about three years, son of Mr. T. Hill, of Church-street, Parramatta, was knocked down by the Castle Hill coach, the wheels of which passed over part of one of his feet, and crushed it very much. The little fellow was picked up and conveyed home, and it is feared that amputation will have to be resorted to.

AT about 8.30 a.m. on Saturday the dead body of a man was found floating in the water at Coogee Bay by Messrs. William Cresswell and Bromley, both of Coogee. In the pocket of the deceased was found an open-faced silver watch, marked "Frodsham," Grace-church-street, London, No. 4208, with gold double albert chain of small link pattern, a pair of oval-shaped sleeve links, two small gold studs, two tram tickets, a latchkey, and an old leathern pouch. The body, which appeared to have been in the water several hours, was removed by the police to the South Sydney Morgue, where it now awaits identification. To further this end we have been furnished by the police with the following description:—About 20 years of age, 5 feet 4 inches in height, of medium build, fair complexion, dark hair, small dark-brown moustache and side whiskers, shaved on chin, teeth perfect. The body was dressed in a dark-brown small check sac suit, white shirt, with blue spots on collar, white cotton undershirt, brown striped socks, lace-up boots, and yellow braces. The City Coroner was communicated with, and an inquest will be held at 9 o'clock this morning.

A DETERMINED case of suicide is reported from Paddington. Shortly before midday yesterday a middle-aged man, named Thomas Encroft, residing at 80, Hargraves-street, Paddington, was found by his son hanging from a bedpost in his bedroom. The son immediately cut the body down, and called in medical aid, but life was found to be extinct. The deceased was 69 years of age, and has left a wife and family. He had been suffering for some time past from asthma and was seriously depressed in consequence. The occurrence was reported to the City Coroner, and an inquest will probably be held.

A WOMAN named Johannah Ann Hill, wife of Francis Hill, of the Field of Mars, committed suicide by drowning herself in a tank either late on Friday night or early on Saturday morning. An inquest was held on her body before Mr. J. E. Bowden, District Coroner, on Saturday afternoon, when the jury found that deceased committed suicide while suffering from temporary insanity. Deceased leaves seven children.

JOSEPH JOHNSTON, a blacksmith, residing in Surry Hills, was admitted to the Sydney Hospital on Saturday, suffering from comminuted fracture of the left ankle, caused by his having been thrown out of a vehicle in Gipps-street while taking a sharp turn round a corner.

A LITTLE boy, named Herbert Thompson, residing with his parents at 21, Key-street, Ultimo, received serious injuries on Saturday, through falling from a balcony a distance of 14 feet, to the ground. He was picked up by some neighbours, and conveyed to the Sydney Hospital, where Dr. D. Gwynne Hughes made an examination, and found the unfortunate little fellow to be suffering from concussion of the brain, as well as a great deal of contusion at the back of the head. Fears were at first entertained that the injuries might prove fatal, but under skilful treatment the child, who is only two years of age, mended rapidly, and at a late hour last night was reported to be doing well.

AN elderly man named Bartine Haigh, described as a commission agent, was taken to the Sydney Hospital yesterday by Constable Hannan. The officer stated that he found the patient lying in Susan-street moaning, and apparently in a fit. Dr. Gwynne Hughes found the man to be suffering from alcoholism.

EARLY yesterday morning a child named George Thomas Day, residing with his parents in Riley-street, was found dead in bed by his mother. The child went to bed on the previous night in good health and spirits. The City Coroner was apprised of the occurrence.

THE following is the report of the Prince Alfred Hospital for the week ending 1st January, 1887:—Number of in-patients at last report, 104 males, 57 females; since admitted, 20 males, 8 females; discharged, 20 males, 8 females; died, 2 males, 1 female; remaining in hospital, 1st January, 1887, 102 males, 56 females; number of out-patients treated during the week, 165; number of casualty cases treated but not admitted, 133.

THE MINISTERIAL CRISIS IN ENGLAND.

LORD HARTINGTON DECLINES THE PREMIERSHIP.

ARRIVAL OF MR. CHAMBERLAIN IN LONDON.

[BY CABLE.]
(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, Dec. 31.

The Times implies that the protests of the Tory members prevented a coalition being formed between the Marquis of Hartington and Lord Salisbury.

The Daily News states that Lord Randolph Churchill will withdraw his resignation and resume his position in the Cabinet, if the Earl of Iddesleigh and Sir Richard Cross are sacrificed. If these Ministers retired, Sir Henry Holland, Vice-president of the Council, and Mr. Ritchie, President of the Local Government Board, would enter the Cabinet.

JAN. 2.

It is understood that the Marquis of Hartington will undertake to form a coalition Government, in the event of Lord Salisbury being compelled to resign.

[REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.]

LONDON, Dec. 30.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain has arrived in London from the Continent, and is engaged in a conference with the Marquis of Hartington on the political situation. Lord Hartington has not yet decided what course he will pursue, but the leading members of the Liberal party are opposed to the formation of a coalition ministry.

EVENING.

Lord Hartington has definitely declined the offer of the Premiership made to him by the Marquis of Salisbury, and also refuses to accept the leadership in the House of Commons, as he considers he will be of more use to the Government outside the Cabinet. It is stated that in consequence of Lord Hartington's refusal, Mr. W. H. Smith, Secretary for War, will assume the leadership in the Commons.

DEC. 31.

Efforts are being made to induce Sir Michael Hicks-Beach to undertake the leadership in the Commons. A certain section of the Conservative party are using strenuous endeavours to secure the return of Lord Randolph Churchill to the Ministry. The Marquis of Hartington will hold a further conference with the Premier to-day.

It is stated that several changes will be made in the construction of the Ministry consequent upon the retirement of Lord Randolph Churchill. Mr. W. H. Smith, who is expected to assume the leadership in the House of Commons, will retain his present position as Secretary for War. Mr. Edward Stanhope exchanges his portfolio for that of Chancellor of the Exchequer, and will be succeeded as Secretary of State for the Colonies by the Earl of Carnarvon, who formerly held that office.

RECLAMATION OF MALLEE COUNTRY IN VICTORIA.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]
(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

MELBOURNE, SUNDAY.

The text of the conditions upon which land in the Mildura run may be obtained for the purpose of establishing an irrigation settlement in the mallee country was published in a special issue of the Gazette on Saturday. The successful tenderer will be required to enter into an agreement precisely similar to that between Messrs. Chaffey Brothers and the Government. At least £10,000 is to be expended during the first year of the agreement, failing which the Government may resume possession of the block without payment of compensation. About 20,000 acres of land within high flood mark, and such gum and box-flats as may be specified by the Government within 12 months of acceptance of the tender, are to be excised from the land described in the original agreement. The tenderer is to pay all compensation due for the resumption of land, the value of the expired lease, and of improvements, &c. A road at least one and a-half chains wide is to be constructed around every 160 acres. All surveys are to be made at the expense of the tenderers, to the satisfaction and under the supervision of the department. The Government will not issue any right to water or any Crown grant for land under sections 7, 8, and 9 of the agreement, unless they are satisfied that the tenderers intend to carry out the whole of their obligations under it in good faith, and in a satisfactory manner. It is understood that Messrs. Chaffey Brothers will tender.

INTERCOLONIAL NEWS.

VICTORIA.

MELBOURNE, SUNDAY.

Saturday was observed as a public holiday. All places of amusement were crowded, and many thousands witnessed a grand display of Pain's fireworks on the East Melbourne cricket ground. Monday is to be a general holiday.

The Intercolonial Draughts Match between teams representing Victoria and South Australia was not carried through, owing to an interruption of the wires.

The R.M.S. Sutlej passed Cape Otway at midnight.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

ADELAIDE, SUNDAY.

The R.M.S. Sutlej arrived early on Saturday morning. She left London on November 20. Fine weather was experienced to Colombo, and thence to the Equator, but on December 21 the Sutlej fell in with fresh trades and a high sea, with rain and squally weather. Amongst the passengers are Lord Sandhurst, his younger brother, Hon. J. Mansfield. They are proceeding to Sydney.

The R.M.S. Rome arrived from Melbourne and Sydney on Saturday morning between 6 and 7. Amongst the passengers are the Marquis and Marchioness of Stafford and Lord Tabart, who were the guests of his Excellency during their stay. Justice and Mrs. Windeyer, who also arrived by the Rome, were the guests of the Chief Justice.

Attention has been called to the condition of a consignment of 10 tons of dynamite, imported by Messrs. Stilling and Co., about nine months ago. The agent for Noble's explosives, who was instructed by the Marine Board to report on the condition of the cartridges, found them considerably damaged, and he is of opinion that they are a source of danger to the city. Professor Rennie expressed himself in similar terms, and Mr. Thomas, analytical chemist, considers it absolutely unsafe to allow the cartridges to remain in the magazine, as owing to the hot weather they are liable to explode, in which case some 40 tons of other explosives would go off, and the result would be the wreckage of the port and city. The attention of the Government has been called to the matter. The Port Adelaide Corporation held a special meeting on Saturday, which the treasurer attended by request. It was stated that there was no danger unless the cartridges were handled.

Another case of small-pox has developed at Torrens Island. The patient was at once isolated. This means an extension of quarantine, as 21 days must elapse before pratique can be granted.

THE SMALLPOX IN VICTORIA.

NINETEEN CASES UNDER TREATMENT.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

MELBOURNE, SUNDAY.

The illness of four patients isolated from the other passengers by the Preussen on Friday at the quarantine station turned out to be smallpox, and they were all removed to the infected hospital. Their names are—Miss Myers, 12 years; a lad named Richardson, 16; a German boy named Eckhurst, 9 years; and a boy, 2 years, named Wilson. The case of the little girl Myers is a very severe one, the disease having taken a confluent form. She was taken ill about the 28th ultimo. Her face is in a most eruptive state, and she has passed a restless day. The case of Wilson is also a bad one, but not so severe as the other. The cases of Richardson and Eckhurst are only mild attacks of smallpox. On Saturday morning four more cases were pronounced to be undoubted smallpox, and they were removed to the hospital, all having a decided eruption on the face and arms. One is likely to develop into a confluent form. In the afternoon four more cases were removed to the infected hospital. Seven more cases were removed to-day to the infected hospital, where 19 cases are under treatment. The infected hospital is ventilated and adapted for the reception of patients suffering from smallpox. Every precaution is being taken by the authorities to prevent the disease getting any further hold of the passengers. The outbreak is altogether confined to the steerage passengers. The only cases that are likely at present to be serious are those of the girl Myers, the baby Wilson, and Mrs. Von der Heyde. The disease in the two last mentioned cases will probably develop into confluent small pox.

A somewhat alarming circumstance has come to light in connection with the escape from the quarantine station, at the Heads, of the second engineer of the Preussen, whose name is Von Reute. The steamer went into quarantine on the 23rd December, and the passengers for Melbourne were on that day landed at the station. She discharged her Melbourne cargo there also, and was then allowed to continue her voyage to Sydney, leaving for that port on the afternoon of Christmas Day. The engineer referred to deserted from the vessel whilst she was in port, and this fact having been reported to the police a search has been made for him, but so far it has been without result. The police, have, however, received information that he was seen at Sorrento, and that he came to Melbourne in the new Bay excursion steamer Ozona. He is known to have brought a quantity of his luggage with him. The police have lost all traces of him since he set foot in the city.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT ON BOARD THE STEAMER BURWAH.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]
(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

BRISBANE, SATURDAY.

A shocking accident occurred on board the steamer Burwah last night when leaving the wharf for Maryborough. The particulars obtained are very meagre, but it is supposed that as the vessel left the wharf one of the signal guns was loaded for firing. Some sparks from fireworks which were being let off on shore fell upon the gun and ignited the priming, causing the charge to explode. A man, whose name is supposed to be Cassin, was standing in front of the gun, and he received the full force of the explosion, which shattered his right thigh. He was taken ashore to the hospital, where he died after lingering for about an hour.

THE S.S. PREUSSEN IN QUARANTINE.

We have been favoured by the health authorities with the following additional information:—

There are at present at the Quarantine Station 40 cases of smallpox, of which 16 are females and 24 males. There are under observation, with suspicious symptoms, 38 persons—23 females and children and 15 males. From the beginning there have been isolated 86 persons, of whom, as above stated, 40 have developed smallpox, and 38 are now under observation; only eight have turned out not to be smallpox, and have consequently been discharged to the healthy ground.

The Board of Health here has received a telegram stating that the Victorian Government has offered a reward of £20 for the apprehension or capture of Von Reute, the escaped engineer. It is reported that he was last seen on board the ship by the second engineer at 2 o'clock on the morning of 24th December, at work. His absence was discovered the same day at noon, during the time two lighters were alongside, one being the Elizabeth, and the other the East Lothian, from Melbourne, and the ship was searched immediately, when his clothes were missed, also a life-belt that he used to have in his room. Two cases on the Faraway are in very great danger—the man Funnell and Mrs. Mercker's infant.

In connection with this matter, the public are urgently cautioned against endeavouring to break into the quarantined grounds or waters. Any person found guilty of this offence will be detained till the end of the quarantine, and then proceeded against with the utmost rigour of the law. It is as well to remember, also, that the penalty for such offence is £200 sterling.

We are desired to state that a boat's crew of Water Policemen have been told off to prevent persons breaking through the cordon the sanitary authorities have placed around the Quarantine Grounds; also, that it is advisable for persons to refrain from fishing in the vicinity of Flagstaff Point and Green Point, it being considered dangerous for them to approach those vicinities at the present time.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

THE TURF.

The Tattersall's annual meeting, which commenced on Saturday, will be brought to a conclusion at Randwick to-day, when a most interesting programme will be submitted to the public. The principal event will be the Carrington Stakes, which will attract a large field, and should produce a fine struggle between Myall King, Chesham, Highland Mary, Kitawa, Raoul, and the other speedy ones engaged. Blackall and Kangaroo will be likely to fight their battles over again in the Steeplechase, unless Omeo can split them, and all the other races are exceedingly open.

A considerable amount of business was done on Saturday night at Tattersall's Rooms over the Carrington Stakes. All the 7 to 1 money was taken about Raoul by one backer, and the colt left off a point better, but without takers. Highland Mary found some support at 100 to 15, but the bookmakers were ready to go on at the same price. A few hundreds were taken about Sorella, and Tom Brown was backed in one line at 500 to 50. The following are the latest quotations:—6 to 1 Raoul (off.), 7 to 1 (tk.), 100 to 15 Highland Mary (tk. and off.), 100 to 12 Kathleen (off.), 100 to 11 Kitawa (off.), 100 to 10 Chesham (off.), 100 to 10 Tom Brown (tk.)—100 to 9 wanted, 100 to 8 Dagobert (off.), 100 to 8 Sorella (tk. and w.), 100 to 8 Cairo (tk.)—100 to 8, 7, 6, 5 subsequently offered without takers, 100 to 6 Upper Cut, 100 to 5 Soldier's Wind (tk. and w.), 100 to 5 Keith, Lancer, Leichhardt, and Victory (off.).

Mr. T. S. Cibborn's annual racing sale takes place to-day at 2 p.m. at Fennelly's Bazaar.

TATTERSALL'S ANNUAL MEETING.

FIRST DAY, SATURDAY, JANUARY 1.

Judge, J. B. Offiffe, M.L.A.; stewards, the committee of Tattersall's Club; handicapper, J. A. Scarr; starter, A. A. Devlin; timekeeper, T. M. Alcock; clerk of the course, J. Ashworth; secretary, James Perry.

The annual race meeting of Tattersall's club is always a popular event, and this year it proved no exception to the rule. The first day's meeting was held at Randwick on New Year's Day, and, favoured by the splendid weather which prevailed, it may be considered to have been in every way eminently successful, both from a monetary and sporting point of view. The club has every reason to be satisfied with the large attendance, whilst the public got the full value for their money from the good day's sport they witnessed. The flat was well patronised, whilst the saddling paddock was crowded with a vociferating throng of bookmakers and sporting men, all intent upon making as much hay as possible during the sunshine. The St. Leger and Grand Stands were packed with a variegated mass of humanity, the ladies as usual predominating. A noticeable improvement, upon which the committee of Tattersall's Club are to be congratulated, was the introduction of the Caulfield plan of displaying the number of each horse upon the saddle cloth in conspicuous figures. This is, we believe, the first time this plan has been adopted at Randwick, and its advantages are so obvious that we feel sure it will be followed at all future race meetings. It does away entirely with the great difficulty which the general public have previously experienced in identifying the various horses by the colours of their riders, which are not always easy to distinguish, and frequently difficult to remember. Lord and Lady Carrington and suite were present during the whole of the afternoon, and apparently took great interest in the racing. An interesting ceremony took place after the Cup Race, when the magnificent silver cup given by Mr. Phillip Gleinister, was presented to the winner by Lady Carrington. In the absence of Mr. Brackenreg, the owner of Tom Brown, the cup was received by Mr. C. C. Skarratt, treasurer of Tattersall's Club. Mr. Skarratt, on receiving the cup, thanked her ladyship in suitable terms for her kindness in presenting the same, and Lady Carrington expressed the pleasure she felt in presenting such a handsome trophy to the winner of the race. The Permanent Artillery Band enlivened the proceedings with a number of choice musical selections. The catering department was well attended to by the Compagnoni Company, although the bar accommodation was taxed to its utmost to meet the demands of a thirsty public. The general arrangements for the convenience of the public were everything that could be desired, and the secretary, Mr. James Perry, and officials of the club, were most courteous and attentive at their respective posts.

Ravensworth, Omeo, and Havelock were the prominent absentees from the Hurdle Race, and Unique and Balmoral were the most freely backed. John Brown made most of the running, but the race was over half a mile from home, when old Balmoral ran up to his horses, and outpacing them won easily. The Flying Handicap was an open race up to the last, the winner turned up in the rank outsider, Prince Regent, who was quite friendless upon his leaving the paddock. The result upset innumerable doubles, and commenced the disasters which befel the public favourites all through the afternoon. Toronto was so freely supported by his stable and the public, that he went to the post an immense favourite for the Selling Race, but was in sad trouble at the home turn, and was one of the last home. Only a dozen were stripped for Tattersall's Cup, The Jewel having been struck out on the course, and when the saddling bell rang, the betting began to undergo a change. Dagobert became weaker in the market, and for a time Myall King ruled as favourite, but later on the Warwick Farm contingent supported Brown and Rose with such spirit that she hardened down to 3 to 1. Most of the work was cut out by Lord of the Lake, when Myall King had a turn at the front, but quite failed to stay it out, and melted away terribly in the last half mile, leaving Tom Brown, Brown and Rose, and Highland Mary to battle for the places, and the son of Kelpie having a better position than the mare beat her cleverly at the end. The winner, who has now won Tattersall's Cup for the second time, was not nearly so fit as the majority of the starters, but was very nicely handled by Ellis, and his victory can be attributed to his superior staying ability. Had M'Grade lived he would have had the mount. The winner is by Kelpie from Happy Thought by The Barb from Merry Thought, by Peter Wilkins, &c., and was bred by Mr. Sydney Reynolds, of Duninald on the Paterson. The Lady Carrington Plate was thought to be a good thing for Huntingtower, but Moorhouse with Colley up, caught him in the run home and won with a title to spare at the finish. Something galloped on Huntingtower soon after starting, and when he returned to scale blood was flowing from his off hock, and the injuries may in a measure have interfered with his prospects. Stanley won the Ladies' Bracelet very easily, and is a rare goer for such a common looking fellow. The following is an account of the racing:—

THE HURDLE RACE, a handicap sweepstakes of 3 sovs. each for starters, with 150 sovs. added; second horse 25 sovs. from the prize. 2¼ miles.

Betting: 2 to 1 v. Unique, 4 to 1 v. Balmoral, 5 to 1 v. Bound, 7 to 1 v. Rifleman, 10 to 20 to 1 v. any other.

Rifleman and Deception got the best of the start, but were soon headed by Gobolion, who led to the back of the course, where Mason took John Brown to the front, and led up the hill and into the straight, followed by Deception and Gobolion. John Brown led Deception a length past the stand, Gobolion heading the others, who were on good terms, except Palaronda, who was sadly puzzled by the jump, and was a long way out of it. Carissima struck the fence at Cutts's very heavily, and Muggridge was thrown right out of his saddle, but managed to make a very clever recovery. Boatman fell at the far side of the course, and Balmoral running into a good place, followed John Brown and Deception up the hill, Unique next, and closely followed by Gobolion. Balmoral and Unique headed their horses at the bend, the top-weight outpacing the favourite, won comfortably by three lengths. Deception was 10 lengths off third, and was followed by John Brown, Carrissima, Rifleman, Gobolion, Society, and The Crow. Bound fell at the last fence. Time, 4 minutes 29 seconds.

Betting: 5 to 1 v. Victory, 6 to 1 v. Raoul and The Bass, 7 to 1 v. Paladin, 8 to 1 v. Soldier Boy and Albanus, 10 to 20 to 1 v. any other.

A bad start sent Victory and Paladin in command, and they forced the pace to the home turn, attended by Lady Marion, Prince Regent, and Astræa. Soon after turning into the straight Prince Regent appeared at the front, and drawing away, defeated Raoul by a long neck. Folly was a good third, and was succeeded by Emerald, The Bass, Victory, Jeremy Diddler, Paladin, Lady Marian, and Tuscarora, while Lottie was last. Time, 1 minute 16 seconds.

THE VICTORIA RACING CLUB.

NEW YEAR'S DAY MEETING.

MELBOURNE, SATURDAY.

The New Year's Day meeting of the Victoria Racing Club was held at Flemington under most favorable circumstances. The weather was delightful up to about half-past 3, when a strong, cool wind brought up clouds of dust, which spread over the lawn and saddling paddock. There was a very large attendance, which included his Excellency the Governor. The ladies were especially numerous, and the scene on the lawn was very charming and picturesque, the ladies' dresses vying in colour with the beautiful flower beds. The chief event of the day was the Regret Handicap, the prize for which is almost equal in value to the Melbourne Cup. Most of the other races were well filled. That most popular horse Commotion had an unfortunate accident, and in the Steeplechase one or two riders and horses came to grief. The following are the details of the racing:

THE SEPTIMUS HANDICAP, of 5 sovs. each, with 200 sovs. added; second, 100 sovs.; ¾-mile.

Mr. Davis' Louis, 5 years, 9st. 8lb. (O'Brien)

Betting: 4 to 1 on Blue Mountain, 4 to 1 v. Goodwood, 6 to 1 v. Bonnie Lad, 6 to 1 v. The Agent and Revenge.

Before they had reached the first hurdle Blue Mountain and Bonnie Lad were in front. Blue Mountain led over the first hurdle to the straight, with Bonnie Lad and Louis on his quarters, Whalebone and The Agent heading the second division, the others in the rear a long way. Leaving the straight, Whalebone went to the front, and carried the field along at a very slow pace. At the abutment Bonnie Lad held an advantage over Blue Mountain, Whalebone had run up to the Agent and Louis. Entering the straight, Bonnie Lad was slightly in advance of Blue Mountain, and Whalebone had taken third position. At the last hurdle the favourite was a clear length in front of the field, and won in the commonest of canters by a length. Whalebone came very fast and beat Goodwood by a head. Time, 4 minutes 3½ seconds.

THE RAGOT HANDICAP, 10 sovs. each, with 1000 sovs. added, second horse 200 sovs.; third 100 sovs. One mile and a half and a distance.

Mr. Miller's Impulse, aged, 6st. (Mr. Johns)
Mr. Gardiner's Shark, 3 years, 6st., carried 6st. 6lb. (Cousins)

Betting: 3 to 1 (at first) and 5 to 1 v. All Gold, 5 to 1 v. Silversmith, 6 to 1 v. Lord Wilton and The Nun, 10 to 1 v. Commotion, Grace Darling, Brilliator, Camarine, and Recall, 12 to 1 v. Duration and Claptrap.

After one break away the flag fell to an excellent start. As they passed the stand Camarine and All Gold were running side by side, with Lord Wilton third. Leaving the straight, Camarine and Harvester were together, with All Gold on their quarters, Lord Wilton, Silversmith, Shark, and Sardius being all in a line, two lengths separating these from Impulse and Metal Connection and Grace Darling brought up the rear. In this order they ran along to the bridge, when Commotion collided with two other horses and so severely injured himself that he was pulled up. At the bridge Harvester was in front. Passing the shutters Harvester was still at the head of the field. Levite came from the rusk and ran up to the leader, and at the shute the Levite had a lead of a clear length, Harvester and All Gold being next, and Duration rushed up to second place. Half a mile from home Levite led, with Recall next him. As they swept into the straight, Duration had a slight advantage over All Gold and Camarine. The favourite challenged Duration, and was half-a-length in front at the end of the lawn. At this point Recall came with a great rush, and a splendid finish resulted in favour of All Gold by half a-length from Recall, a length separating Duration from the Ballarat horse. Time, 2 minutes 23½ seconds.

STEEPLECHASE, 5 sovs. each, with 300 sovs. added; second, 50 sovs.; third, 25 sovs. About 2½ miles.

Mr. Cox, junr.'s, Salesman, aged, 8st. 7lb. (owner)

Betting: 2 to 1 v. Lady Ashton, 3 to 1 v. Lisette, 5 to 1 v. Curiosity.

Lady Ashton was the first to commence, followed by Curiosity, Lisette, Moonlight, Contingent, Lisette, and Salesman. As they passed the abutment Lady Ashton was three lengths in front of Lisette. Passing the shute Lady Ashton increased her lead to a dozen lengths. The next fence caused Salesman to baulk. Lisette also refused. The next fence in the straight brought down Curiosity. Lady Ashton came down heavily at the second of the treble in front of the stand, leaving Lisette with Moonlight in a long lead. After lying across M'Leod's leg some seconds Lady Ashton was remounted, and set off in pursuit of Lisette, who continued in a winner. Time 5 minutes 19½ seconds.

THE CETTERON STAKES, 5 sovs. each, with 150 sovs. added; for two-year-olds. Three-quarters of a mile.

INTERCOLONIAL WAREHOUSEMEN'S MATCH.

The return match between the Sydney and Melbourne Warehousemen's Associations commenced on the Agricultural Society's Ground on New Year's Day. The turf was overlaid with matting, which worked very well; but the long grass pulled the ball up very quickly in the outfield. Messrs. Overland (Sydney) and Speechley (Melbourne) were selected as captains, and the former winning the toss elected to bat. The total reached was 87, towards which W. Driver contributed 20 (not out), R. Hilliar scoring 18, and J. Searle 15. The Melbourne representatives in their first innings reached 94, G. D. Wilson with 19, and R. Thomas with 18, being the principal contributors. The Sydney team then went to the wickets for their second innings, and had lost one wicket for 45 when the stumps were drawn for the day. Letcher, Maguire, Taylor, and Cooper did the bowling for the visitors, while Gosnell and Colleton were most successful for the Sydney team. At the luncheon a few toasts were drunk. Mr. Alexander proposed the health of the visiting team, coupled with the name of Mr. Speechley, who replied, and proposed that of the Sydney representatives, coupled with the name of Mr. Overland. The latter acknowledged the compliment, after which he proposed the health of the press. The toast was duly acknowledged, and the game was then resumed. The match will be continued at 11 a.m. to-day. Trophies will be given for the best batting and bowling analyses.

THE PLAY.

Patrick and Searle commenced the batting to the bowling of Letcher and Maguire, the former trundler starting with a maiden. Searle scored a single off Maguire, who bowled Patrick with a rather simple-looking one—the last of the over. 1—0—1. Ives joined Searle, who began to bat freely, and after three singles off his Maguire twice in an over for two. Ives played the same bowler to mid-on for a leave, and was nearly run out on the second, but Raines, who was behind the wickets, missed the ball, and a third was run for thoroughness. In the next over Ives was caught by Raines off Letcher. 2—4—12. Hilliar joined Searle, who seemed to have gained the mastery of the bowling, and again hit Maguire twice for a leave. Hilliar hit the same bowler past mid-on for the ball going close to the fence. A maiden from Letcher to the same batsman, and Searle gave a chance at point, but Delaney was unable to get up to it in time, the over being a maiden. Another maiden from each end, and Searle drove Maguire

THE MOUNT RENNIE CASE.

ADDRESS BY THE REV. T. J. CURTIS.

Yesterday afternoon the Rev. T. J. Curtis delivered an address at the New Masonic Hall on the "Religious, Moral, Social, and National Aspects of the Mount Rennie Case." No charge was made for admission, but the attendance did not number more than 100. The proceedings were opened with the singing of the 100th hymn and the delivery of prayer.

Mr. CURTIS said that he would like to take up the consideration of this very sad and solemn subject with all calmness, dispassion, and with all candour and sincerity of judgment, and the very first thing he would like to say was that no one in the land could be more deeply impressed than he was with the sense of the hideousness, foulness, and criminality of the offence perpetrated on the 9th September last in the vicinity of Mount Rennie. The outrage filled the whole community with indignation and alarm, for they felt that in their midst there were wolves, dogs, incarnate fiends. Another thing he would like to say at the outset, and that was that it was a vile slander upon those who were taking a part with him in favour of a reprieve of the condemned men to say that they had not the smallest sympathy with crime or with criminals. They desired as strongly as any man or woman in the land to see those who were guilty of this enormous outrage upon purity and righteousness, and upon the spirit of true love, punished according to their deserts, and the only questions upon which they differed from others were, whether those who were cast for death were all of them guilty; whether there were not some at large who ought to be among the condemned; and whether there were not among the criminals several who were altogether innocent, or morally innocent, comparatively to such an extent that they ought not to suffer to the same extent as those who were the guiltiest. Then they differed upon another point, namely, as to what punishment should be inflicted upon those who were guilty in the most enormous degree. He denounced in the most emphatic terms the position taken up by a section of the press in endeavouring to brand a number of Christian men and women, and daring to assert that those who sided with him had no desire to see righteousness, purity, and holy justice prevail in the land. Proceeding to the subject matter of his address, he said, that when they were to look for the vile stock, the horrid root and dreadful cause from which had proceeded this fearful tree of evil, this fruit of Sodom, these fearful effects. He said deliberately in answer that they were to look to the inborn depravity of our poor fallen human nature. It was most horrible and absurd, and the most hypocritical Pharisaism to say that those whom they all regarded as the scum of society, and the lowest order of the community, had all the odium and notoriety to themselves. It would rather suppose some people if he were to divulge all that had been communicated to him verbally and in writing, of the immorality and impurity which existed in what were called the higher circles of society. They had to look at the root of the whole thing, and that would be found in the miserable fallen demoralised nature which unhappily they all possessed in common. He referred to low public houses and common dancing saloons as fruitful sources of evil, and said that in many instances the owners of these places were among the very parents who were brandling these young men to death, when they were perhaps the very people who were morally responsible for the position in which the criminals were placed. Looking at the matter from a national point of view, so far as this community was concerned, he thought they had a great deal to thank the old convict system for. The old leaven of the convict element had not been purged away. There were a great many people in the land who were rightly held in esteem, love, and respect by their neighbours, and he would never say a word against them, but it happened that they were related to those who were unhappily transported to the colony, and the leaven had been working among the people and had never been purged. Instead of taking steps to purge it they were going in precisely the opposite direction. They had abundant proof before them that hanging was no deterrent to crime. (Hear, hear.) If hanging was a deterrent, then the more they had that form of punishment the greater would be its deterrent effect, but they knew from the experience of the past in England that this was not the case, but that on the contrary it had a degrading and demoralising effect. If he thought there was no palliation for rape, which was indeed a more dreadful crime for many reasons than murder, he would say hang those men, even although it had no deterrent effects; but when he found that there were other forms of punishment to be found that would be equally if not more effectual, he would be bound to consider them. There were other persons who were to be considered. There were families who in many cases were not responsible for the misdeeds of their children, and there was also the consideration as to the influence of the case upon the community at large. He felt most deeply that if last week they set up a gallows and hanged these men there would be placed upon the colony's national shield such a deep dark blot as would not be obliterated for generations to come, and which all the patriotic feelings and public spirit which he possessed, he deprecated the infliction of a sentence which would tend to mar the future of this bright and growing land. They all knew that flogging, solitary confinement, and other nameless horrors would be far worse punishment so far as the prisoners were personally concerned; and the condemned men might well say, as two of them did say to him, "We would rather be hanged than flogged." Speaking of the religious aspect of the question, he argued that it was not in accordance with Scripture to hang for rape. Allowing that they were still bound by the law "Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed," to hang for murder they were not bound by our part of the Levitical law under which the Sabbath-breaker, the curser of parents, the adulterer and adulteress, and many other wrongdoers were to be put to death. The Gospel was a dispensation of mercy and not of vengeance, and it was the blessed Gospel alone that could really and effectually purify human life. The christian profession brought its weighty responsibilities, and it would be better become those holy Pharisees who were now thirsting for vengeance, dire and extreme, to be meted out to these youths, if they had themselves to the reformation of their own lives and the performance of their duty by their neighbours. He charged the rich and influential of this land with gross neglect of their solemn responsibilities towards the masses.

Upon the conclusion of the address several questions were put to Mr. Curtis by persons in the body of the hall and answered, and the proceedings terminated.

NEW ISSUE OF SHARES.

AUSTRALIAN MUTUAL INVESTMENT and BUILDING COMPANY, Limited.

The rapid growth of the Company's business has induced the Directors to issue 20,000 Shares at the par value, and as only 10,000 of these are reserved for the Sydney Market, it is necessary that speedy application be made by those intending to take up shares.

The present issue of shares will occur from the first, £3 11s 8d per share, with every prospect of still larger dividends in the future.

The New Issue will increase the Paid-up Capital from £20,000 to £40,000, and the Reserve from £40,000 to £80,000.

This Reserve will be larger than that of any other Building Company in the Colony, and as a consequence of the large Reserve, the rate of interest to this Company will be less than that of other Building Companies.

The total Receipts during the year ending 31st December, 1886, amounted to £182,318 4s 10d, and the sum of £181,021 15s 9d was received on deposits, larger than the total amount received by any other Building Company in the Colony.

The year just closing shows an increase in the receipts of one third over the amount received last year, and this in the face of the universal depression in trade.

The fact that this Company has always paid the highest rate of Dividend, and at the same time carried substantial sums to Reserve every year is a guarantee that in the future the same good results may be anticipated.

The Directors have every confidence in recommending these Shares as the soundest investment in the market.

NOTES EXPLANATORY OF MAP.

In the list of stations the column headed W.T. gives the state of the weather at 9 a.m., b standing for blue sky; c, detached clouds; d, drizzling rain; l, fog; g, gloomy; h, hazy; m, misty; s, fine; t, threatening; p, passing showers; r, rain; s, snow; t, thunder; th, threatening. The next column, M'x gives the maximum temperature for previous 24 hours. M'n the corresponding minimum temperature; r'n, the rain for the previous 24 hours. The symbols used in the map are explained on the margin. At each coast station the wind symbol is placed like a vane pointing to the direction from which the wind is blowing. A clear circle with 1 means fine weather; a circle with bar, cloudy weather; and a black spot, raining. Next to this symbol are placed figures denoting the number of miles the wind is moving per hour; next, a symbol showing the state of the sea; and, lastly, figures denoting the shade temperature at 9 a.m. The barometer curve shows the state of barometers round the coast from Perth to Cooktown:—Pt, Perth; Ay, Albany; Es, Eucla; CB, Cape Borda; A, Adelaide; Me, Mebo; P, Portland, M, Melbourne; W P, Wilson's Promontory; Go, Gabo; E, Eden; Ma, Moruya; C G Jervis Bay; Wg, Wollongong; S, Sydney; N, Newcastle; P M, Port Macquarie; C, Clarence River; B, Brisbane; R, Rockhampton; Ct, Cooktown. Inland the state of barometer is given in figures at Albury, Deniliquin, Wentworth Menindie, Bourke, and Alice Springs. The barometer curve enables one at a glance to trace the depressions, beginning with Western Australia, and passing along Centralia; northerly winds preceding them, and southerly following.

South Australia.—Generally fine and warm, with light variable winds and calms, fallen barometers, and smooth sea. Extremes of barometers and temperature on the coast: Port Augusta, 30·00; Eucla, 29·36 and 73°; Robe, 63°. In Northern Territory: Daly Waters, 29·85 and 90°; Port Darwin, 29·75 and 87°.

Tasmania.—Generally fine and cool, with light variable winds, almost steady barometers, and moderate sea. Extremes of barometers and temperature: Low Heads, 30·00 and 58°; Hobart 29·81 and 66°.

Queensland.—Cape Moreton, E., light, fine, moderate sea. Barometer, 29·89.

New South Wales.—Generally fine and clear, but cool west of the range, cloudy and unsettled in eastern division, and raining on the coast north of Port Macquarie. Winds are light and variable, but chiefly easterly. Barometers have risen on the coast, but fallen in west parts, and the sea is smooth. Light rain has fallen in north coast districts, heaviest on the Clarence. Extremes of barometers and temperature at 9 a.m.: Wollongong, 30·03; Dubbo, 29·94; Bourke, 30·04; and Kiandra, 61°. Reading of the standard barometer at Sydney, corrected to 32° Fahr. and mean sea level, at 9 a.m., 30·095. Extra station: Lake Cudgellico, max. 69°, min. 50°, fine and clear. For further particulars see map.
